WEEK 30/06/2025

A note from Mrs Alford...

Goodness, what a hot week it has been for the children and staff! I must say that everyone has managed remarkably well, considering the heat both inside and outside the school. It has been a relief that the temperature has decreased over the week. Next week, the children will be expected to return to the normal uniform policy. Thank you.

What a fabulous time we had at the summer fair! As a school, we are very grateful for the commitment of our volunteers, who helped organise, set up, and run the fair. It was a lovely moment of community shared together.

We are entering the last two weeks of this academic year, which is always a surprisingly busy time for families, children, and staff. Next week will be our final Best Seats of the year (The Pupils' Vote), and then on Friday the 18th, it will be Best Seats: The Leavers Edition at 2 p.m. All families are welcome to join us in celebrating the journey of our Year 6 children. Please note that this will take the place of our usual morning slot.

As we begin to make preparations for our priorities for next year, it is also a great time to celebrate the impact and achievements of this year. This year has seen us embed our Malvern Wells Teaching Rubric, which is rooted in the principles of Rosenshein. Rosenshein's Principles of Instruction are a set of evidence-based recommendations for teachers, derived from research on cognitive science and effective teaching practices. Every teacher in our school uses most of these principles in the majority of their lessons, which is a key indicator of secure teaching. We have seen the impact of this through the attainment results the children have achieved and their progress from their individual starting points.

Looking ahead to the end of next week, you will receive your child's annual report electronically through our INSIGHT data system. If you would like a paper copy, please request one via email to office@mwprimary.co.uk.

You will also receive our annual calendar for next year and an invitation to an initial curriculum meeting regarding the coverage your child will experience in their new year group. We do strongly encourage you to attend these informative sessions; however, the PowerPoint presentations will be displayed on our website.

Shrek the Musical will be performed next week by Class 4 (and a small number of Class 3 children). All families are welcome to buy tickets and watch the performance but younger children are not taking part. Have a great weekend, Mrs Jen Alford
